Sin, Sin, Sin!

"Yet death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over those whose sins were not like the transgression of Adam, who was a type of the one who was to come." (Romans 5:14 RSV)

This is the time of the Christian year when the church makes a conscious effort to be aware of and to repent of sin, in preparation for the celebration of Easter. The forty long days of Lent remind us that this is no easy task. Most of the time we shy away from remembering that, although we are "saved," we are still sinners in the process of sanctification. We would rather go to worship and "Sing, Sing, Sing" (a song made famous by Benny Goodman, I know most of you are saying Benny who?), than take time with God to deal with our sin, sin, sin. Therefore it takes a concentrated endeavor to let God show us the areas of our lives which need confession, forgiveness, change, and healing.

Interesting conversations usually ensue when the subject of sin is introduced, and many people believe that it is an outmoded concept in this modern age. Blithely they think that if they had been in the Garden of Eden instead of Adam and Eve, they would have fared much better and saved us a whole lot of trouble. That is easy to say, especially in hindsight, but obviously anyone with that attitude is blinded to the ways in which they are tempted to sin regularly. In reality, people with proper self-awareness know that the story of Adam and Eve is a story about them, and that, "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:23). No mere human being, even someone with high morals, foresight, inspired good intentions, and the sheer grit of dogged perseverance, could have prevented death from coming into the world and marring the order of creation. At the root, we are all the same.

Now, outside the Garden of Eden, as we face death, we are all humbled to know that none of us can conquer it. No foolish statements here. Only Jesus, the Son of God, was able to undo the undoing of Creation. Only Jesus could reconcile us rebellious ones to God in spite of our sin. Only Jesus could bring us back home. This is why we take time to face our sin, sin, sin, so that the stuff which makes us uneasy in God's presence can be eradicated, and we can be more at home with Him. Difficult as it might be to let God "search our hearts for any wicked way in us," it is a good time for coming closer to God and preparing for the celebration of eternal life at Easter, when we can sing, sing, sing with deep gratitude.

Jesus, by your grace I will never forget what you have done for me. Help me to yield to you those things which cause me to avoid you. Amen.

REVITALIZATION AND TRANSFORMATION
MONTHLY FORUMS and HINGE EVENTS

Congregations in the Southern District can explore a variety of tools for revitalization & transformation. There is a tool that is right to get your congregation started from the basic (simple) to the complex which is more intensive. The important thing is to explore and get started. Overall health and vibrancy will increase through intentional exploration and setting a course of action.

An Exercise survey can be used to help assess where your congregation is in its life cycle. There are measures in five different areas. Also, there is an online survey available to help measure the eight hinge factors to establish a baseline of current performance. While these two tools measure person's perceptions, it is a means of getting in touch with reality.

First Lutheran in Floral, AL is host to an Opening Doors Hinge Event on Saturday, March 15. The focus of this Hinge Event will be on: Basics in Revitalization & Starting a New Life Cycle in Your Church. The Hinge Event begins at 9 a.m. and ends no later than 3 p.m. A nominal registration fee is charged to help cover cost of the lunch meal, refreshments, and materials.

Monthly forums on revitalization and transformation are being hosted at two sites:

- New Orleans Area (4th Tuesday of each month; 7:00 - 8:30 p.m.)
- Northshore/MS Gulf Coast (4th Thursday of each month; 7:00 - 8:30 p.m.)

These forums are designed for pastor and leaders. Congregations are invited to bring a team as each Forum is an introduction to dimensions of revitalization/transformation. There is no fee for participation in the Forum.

For more information on revitalization/transformation on any of the above, contact Gene Menzel at 504-495-7436 or by e-mail at gwmenz@aol.com I am privileged to serve as the contractor to the Southern District for services in the area of revitalization/transformation.

THE THEOLOGY THAT GOT AWAY

A strange, new thing is happening at the St. Louis seminary. In response to so many pastors reflecting on their seminary training as being completely devoid of clear stewardship theology regarding time and money, the seminary is taking a proactive approach to help the seminarians understand their identity as stewards because they are already beloved children of God.

I've heard it said that there are basically three kinds of people in the world: those who are good at math and those who are not!

Of course, stewardship is about far more than financial concerns but even so, Mammon has got to be one of the most popular titles.

Jesus told the parable of the rich fool in Luke 12:13-21. Ultimately, he called his hearers to seek to be "rich toward God." It seems that the man in the parable had a priority list that looks something like this:

What Matters Most

1. Harvest huge crop
2. Build bigger barns
3. Enjoy financial security
4. Eat
5. Drink
6. Be merry!
7. Remember not to die

JESUS TELLS US that He was not "rich toward God." I propose that being rich toward God would include the following:

- Having a soul that is increasingly healthy through Word and Sacraments;
- Making that which is temporary become the servant of that which is eternal;
- Loving and enjoying the people around you who are also gifted and valued by God;
- Being very generous with your stuff because you find your satisfaction in the promises of God. (Do not let your hearts be troubled; this concept is all over the New Testament! Tithing? -not so much.)

WE CAN BE GENEROUS in all sorts of ways, can't we? These days, time is an unbelievably precious commodity, and when a Christian sacrificially gives their time to another person, it makes an impression. You can also be generous with your gifts and talents that will bless other people. There is somehow, somehow, that God intends to use you as one of his Apps for getting done what he wants to get done in this world. And yes of course, there is financial generosity as well. When Paul refers to giving "Cheerfully" he uses the same Greek word from which we get the word "hilarious." Doesn't that put a new spin on the concept of a cheerful giver? We can actually be hilarious about it! After all, have you ever met a grumpy generous person?

WE CAN ALSO BE GENEROUS with our church buildings. Too many churches sit empty all week when there are needs in the community that could be impacted by simply making space available.

WE HAVE BEEN BLESSED at Trinity, Monroe for at least 15 years by having AA groups use our building. They constantly express their gratitude to us even though we really don't have to do anything for them. As a result of their meeting here and the groups growing through the years, I'm told that about two thirds of the recovery community in the Twin City area meet at our church! Our building stays busy all week and our parking lot is full at various times of the day throughout the week. And yes, it has led to countless opportunities to share the love of Christ with people who come to our building.

ANYWAY, THERE ARE ALL SORTS OF WAYS that we can generously be partners in the Gospel. I want to remind you also that there are several congregations in the district who customarily submit a partnership form for their planned giving to the district mission and ministry. I want to encourage you to go to the district website and print or simply fill out the partnership form at this link: (please fill in the link here, Marion) Then submit it to the very helpful Ronnie Gaise at r.gaise@southernlcms.org.

YOU CAN ALSO submit your financial offering to the district through the district website. You can set up a free bank draft from your checking account or use a credit card (fee applies) at this link: (Marion, please put the link here)

2014 PARTNERSHIP COMMITMENTS

- Has your congregation submitted their 2014 Partnership Commitment to the Southern District Mission Center? Please check because THIS JUST CAN'T BE RIGHT! Twenty-six, that's 26, of the 170 congregations who hold membership in the Southern District is the number of Partnership Commitments received in the district's business office. That's 15%.
- So, please check with your treasurer and/or other leadership to see if they attended to this task.
- These forms assure the accuracy of the district's records and brings attention to any discrepancies in gifts.
